

From uus Fri Sep 12 12:41:14 1997

Subject: Re: JCS Referee report

To: keith@imprint.co.uk

Dear Keith:

I very much appreciate the valuable criticisms and suggestions made by a referee. I will revise my article accordingly. I think I will cut back somewhat the first part (directly related to consciousness) of the paper and will stress more strongly the connection between the problems of consciousness studies and free will.

(Yesterday I posted for you 2 copies of the article revised as we agreed upon earlier this week. These are now, of course, obsolete.)

Best regards,
Undo

From keith@imprint.co.uk Fri Sep 12 15:57:22 1997
From: Keith Sutherland <keith@imprint.co.uk>
Subject: Re: JCS Referee report

In message <199709120941.MAA04116@cathy.obs.ee>, Undo Uus <uus@obs.ee> writes

>Dear Keith:

>

>I very much appreciate the valuable criticisms and suggestions >made by a referee. I will revise my article accordingly. I think >I will cut back somewhat the first part (directly related to >consciousness) of the paper and will stress more strongly the >connection between the problems of consciousness studies and >free will.

Many thanks for being so understanding, and look forward to your revised submission in due course -- no great hurry. Am I not right though in thinking the referee recommended to extend and develop the first part, or did I get that wrong? And of course it's up to you to decide what strategy suits you best.

--

Keith

JKB SUTHERLAND, PUBLISHER
JOURNAL OF CONSCIOUSNESS STUDIES      HISTORY OF POLITICAL THOUGHT

IMPRINT ACADEMIC, PO BOX 1, THORVERTON EX5 5YX, UK
TEL: +44 (0)1392 841600. Fax: 841478. EMAIL: keith@imprint.co.uk

WWW: <http://www.zynet.co.uk/imprint>

From keith@imprint.co.uk Fri Jan 23 13:10:23 1998
From: Keith Sutherland <keith@imprint.co.uk>
Subject: The Libertarian Imperative

Dear Undo

Sorry we've been out of touch so long, other imperatives got in the way, but now we are back on course with the JCS special issue on free will and volition. We need to send your submission to Ben Libet, the guest editor and also Joseph Goguen, our ed-in-chief. In fact my colleague Anthony Freeman sent it to Libet yesterday, but I have a feeling that your last version is lost somewhere in the junk-heap that is sitting on my desk. Would you mind sending us another 3 copies of the final version and, to ensure Libet gets to read your final version, send him a copy by express airmail, with a covering letter saying that this is the final revised version, and you are sending it at the request of Anthony Freeman of JCS (I'll fax to warn him of this).

Prof. Benjamin Libet
Department of Physiology
University of California, San Francisco
CA 94143-0444
USA

One other thought. We never ran a book review in jcs of Lowe's "Subjects of Experience". How would you like to do a review? I'm enclosing your earlier comments on the book to remind you, and also my own THES piece in case you wanted to steal anything

keith

From uus Mon Jan 26 10:04:26 1998
Subject: Re: The Libertarian Imperative
To: keith@imprint.co.uk

Dear Keith:

You couldn't have found the last version of my paper on your desk because I have only just now completed it. I am very sorry for delaying so long with it, but I have waited for prof-s Timothy Sprigge's and Robert Kane's comments on my paper and then revised it quite substantially. I will send the copies of the last version of the paper to you and prof. Libet within a few days.

I will consider also your inviting proposal to write a review of Lowe's book, and will tell you about my decision soon.

Best wishes,
Undo

From keith@imprint.co.uk Mon Jan 26 13:07:56 1998

From: Keith Sutherland <keith@imprint.co.uk>

Subject: Re: The Libertarian Imperative

In message <199801260804.KAA19960@cathy.obs.ee>, Undo Uus
<uus@cathy.obs.ee> writes

>Dear Keith:

>

>You couldn't have found the last version of my paper on your desk >because I have only just now completed it.

Phew, that's a relief -- I thought I'd lost it!

> I am very sorry for >delaying so long with it, but I have waited for prof-s Timothy

>Sprigge's and Robert Kane's comments on my paper and then revised >it quite substantially. I will send the copies of the last version >of the paper to you and prof. Libet within a few days.

That's great, thanks. I'm particularly glad that you have consulted Sprigge.

>I will consider also your inviting proposal to write a review of

>Lowe's book, and will tell you about my decision soon.

Thanks. I can return the book for you to have another look.

--

Keith

JKB SUTHERLAND, PUBLISHER

JOURNAL OF CONSCIOUSNESS STUDIES      HISTORY OF POLITICAL THOUGHT

IMPRINT ACADEMIC, PO BOX 1, THORVERTON EX5 5YX, UK

TEL: +44 (0)1392 841600. Fax: 841478. EMAIL: keith@imprint.co.uk

WWW: <http://www.zynet.co.uk/imprint>

From uus Tue Jan 27 18:09:49 1998
Subject: Re: The Libertarian Imperative
To: keith@imprint.co.uk (Keith Sutherland)

Dear Keith,

You need not send Lowe's book to me: I made a copy of it for myself when it was in my hands.

Undo

---

From:
Dr. Undo Uus
Tartu Observatory
Estonia
E-mail: uus@obs.ee

Professor Benjamin Libet
Department of Physiology
University of California, San Francisco
CA 94143-0444

January 28, 1998

Dear Professor Libet,

Enclosed you find a copy of the final revised version of my article ``The Libertarian Imperative" which I send you at the request of Anthony Freeman of the Journal of Consciousness Studies.

Yours sincerely,
Undo Uus